Temporary Reservoir Fails Purity Test, Delays Repair

Draining of Westlake Palisades' earthquake-cracked 1,600,000 gallon reservoir was delayed this week when a county analysis showed an unsafe bacteria count in a nearby temparary wooden cistern that is to be used while the main tank is under repair.

Chemical sample of water taken from the 28,000 gallon wooden tank, formerly used for wine storage, showed an "undesirable" bacteria count of 16. Three is considered the limit for safe municipal use.

Public Works Director Otis Calhoun said the wooden tank would be re-chlorinated today and a second analysis made. He declared results of the first test were "bad," but expressed optimism that by retreating the tank it would measure up to standards. Results of the second test will not be made available for five days. If the tests show the water safe for consumption, the city will proceed immediately with draining of the city reservoir to determine extent of damage suffered by the reservoir in the March 22 earthquake. Preliminary estimates indicate the huge reservoir will cost between $5000 and $6000 to mend and the project will take about a week.

The wooden tank, which has already been hooked into the water mains and is ready for use, will service portions of the Westlake area while the reservoir is being repaired.

Meanwhile, the wooden tank became a controversial issue at Monday's council meeting as Councilman Micheal De Bernardi declared that purchase of the $1400 temporary facility was a major policy matter and should not have been done without official discussion.

As a result, council withheld payment of the $1400 bill until tests show the tank is safe for storage of water.

HI TEACHERS SEEK $39,000 PAY HIKE

The 97 teachers in Jefferson Union High School district Monday night submitted a 1957-58 salary schedule request which will cost the district approximately $39,280 more than this year's teacher budget.

Trustees heard the report by a six-member committee representing the teachers association, headed by Louis Martin and elaborately explained by Elman Rose.

Six months in the making, the proposed salary schedule, according to the teachers committee, is financially geared to allow the district to keep and attract top personnel.

118 Teachers

If the board approves the hike, it means a total addition of $39,280 in salaries, spread among 118 teachers at Westmoor and Jefferson next school year.

Average paycheck increase per teacher per year would be $332, or roughly a 5.72 per cent wage hike. This breaks down to $27 gross per teacher a month, or $19 net per teacher.

The district's 1956-57 teacher salary budget was $577,700. Adding step increments the present schedule is $722,000, $102,800 of which is for new teachers.

If the board adopts the teachers proposal, the sought $39,280 will be added to the $722,000 for a combined expenditure of $761,000. Approximately $108,640 of this final figure is for new teachers.

Figuring on the $332 hike per teacher, average salary in the district would be $5432. State average amounts to around $5500.

Justified

Superintendent Edward D. Morgan, who has worked with the teachers committee since November on the salary schedule, confirmed his satisfaction with their conclusions and "justified requests."

Rose, whose detailed review of the committee's reasoning highlighted most of the hour-long presentation, offered pinpoint conclusions.

"We (the association) basically are trying to maintain our position in the matter of salaries. Actually, we haven't gained in relation to pay scales of other professions requiring similar college training," he announced.

"Big drawback," he explained, "is that teachers can't move along fast enough here—there's a definite ceiling on salaries, due to district's critical financial position."

Good Choice

Rose added that the district, primarily because of location, and present progressive salary trend, isn't suffering a shortage of teachers. "We'll continue to

City Rejects Piecemeal Work on War Memorial

The council decided Monday to forego piece-meal work on the War Memorial community center and finish the long-delayed facility under one contract.

In a 3-1 vote, the council instructed Public Works Director Otis Calhoun to complete plans and specifications so bids could be advertised for the entire project. This year's budget still contains $20,000 which was to go to complete a portion of the building.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi opposed the action, citing the fact that no plans had yet been made for providing new headquarters for the public works and building inspector departments, now housed in the center.

PTA Official Outlines Trustee Job

(Ed. note: On May 17 five local school districts will hold trustee elections for the six terms that expire June 30. While important to all segments of the community, schools are a primary concern of those most closely connected with them: children and their parents and teachers. The following is first in a series of articles about school boards and their duties, prepared by Mrs. L. H. Prager, director of communications, 17th district California Congress of Parents and Teachers).

Johnny, that same Johnny whose reading ability stirred up so much controversy in the last couple of years, goes to a school that is governed by trustees. Like any business executive or professional man, they must operate according to law. For our schools that law is the Education Code of the State of California, except in cases where a city charter applies.

These laws give them tremendous responsibility; Johnny's school can be no better than the school board that runs it.

What qualifications, then, must a trustee bring to this position of public trust that he fills without pay? The legal requirements (Ed. Code, Sec. 1815) are simple: he must be a voter in the district. That's all. Nothing about education, business experience, financial

Board 'Bans' Coast Hiway School Buses

Alarmed by another "near miss" by students in a landslide on Coast Highway earlier in the day, Jefferson Union High trustees Monday night moved to abandon the often-closed route for the rest of the school year in a measure to safeguard school bus traffic.

Superintendent Edward D. Morgan, backed by Westmoor principal Glenn South, urged the action—a matter they've sweated out the past few months.

As of noon Monday, the 10 school buses transporting approximately 500 students (485 of Westmoor) were re-routed off Coast Highway and now go to and from the high school via Sharp Park road, Skyline, Westlake and Broadmoor.

Sheriff's deputies told THE RECORD today that Monday's earth downpour in the Mussel Rock area shut off the road to all traffic, with repair time undetermined.

Apprehensive about the Coast road, particularly since the close scrape in the March 22 quake, Morgan and South made no bones about direct action.

"Certainly the road is scenic, and all that," Morgan said sternly, "but we can't afford to take additional chances. Student safety is our business, so I want this matter settled immediately."

Morgan told trustees he has been watching the problem closely and is in the process of getting a report from the

Elementary District OK's $11,724 For City-Schools Recreation Plan

STATE-WIDE 38th annual Public Schools Week, April 29 through May 3, got an early sendoff today by these dignitaries as they set the stage for a series of open houses at the high and elementary schools here. Ready to ink the proclamation with pen supplied by Master Mason Lyal Ingersoll, JUHS district board chairman, is Mayor Joe Verducci. Pledging support are (left to right): Edward D. Morgan, JUHS superintendent; Elio Fontana, high trustee and member of Crocker Masonic Lodge's three-man Public Schools Week committee, and H. Z. Weibel, JESD superintendent. Masons of California have sponsored the observance since 1919. THE RECORD photo

Elementary trustees Wednesday night authorized expenditure of $11,724 to join with the Daly City department of parks and recreation in a joint community-wide recreation program beginning June 17.

Their action came on request of Dee R. Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation, and members of the city recreation commission.

The $11,000 outlay covers the period from this June 30 to July 1 next year, with the $724 added in order that the program may begin June 17 when school lets out.

Van Nest authorized the plan to extend city-supervised and planned recreation activities to about 3300 more children by utilizing six schools as new "centers" — Colma, Benjamin Franklin, Olympia, Westlake and Crocker.

The city currently operates six recreation centers. These are Community Center, Frankfort Park, Lincoln, Edgewood and Marchbanks playgrounds and Westlake Park.

Van Nest's proposal, as endorsed by trustees, will give Daly City a "much needed" and broader recreation program.

Trustees okayed the move with the stipulation that Van Nest would coordinate his project with the recreation agreement recently entered into by the district with surrounding unincorporated areas.

Operating on an "extremely limited budget," Van Nest said the project will offer a coordinated recreation program to "thousands of adults and youths," in addition to the youngsters in the specified six school areas.

Van Nest added that his department would show preference to elementary district teachers when hiring personnel to assist in the enlarged program.

SCHOOLS AWAIT 'OPEN HOUSE' WEEK MONDAY

City officials, administrators, parents, teachers and students.

All are looking forward to the 38th annual "Public Schools Week," April 29 to May 3. It's a national observance—a tribute to our schools—and backed in California by the Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

Schools in Daly City and environs will greet the occasion with a series of open house events—inviting parents to meet teachers and administrators, to get a good idea of school functions and education policies.

Mayor Joe Verducci, inking the proclamation with zest, encourages a big turnout. "This is THE opportunity for all to get acquainted with the wonderful education process," he summed up.

Open house is set for Westmoor High next Wednesday, May 1, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Next evening the same program will prevail at Jefferson High. Superintendent Edward D. Morgan will climax the outings by addressing parents in the school auditorium at 8:45, both evenings.

Parents will be given schedules in the main office of their children's classes, then they should proceed to classrooms to chat with teachers. Various exhibits and demonstrations will be featured.

Morgan's topic will be over all school affairs, "getting home our program to parents."

Monday through Wednesday nights have been set aside by Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, elementary district, for open

Tot Hit By Auto 'Poor,' Suffers Fractured Skull

Two-year-old Darlyne Schultz was reported in "poor, but not critical" condition yesterday at Kaiser Foundation hospital after being hit by a car in front of her Atlanta street home Wednesday evening.

Attendants said the girl, who suffered a fractured skull and cuts over the left eye, had not regained consciousness since the accident at 5:10 Wednesday evening.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultz, 548 Atlanta, was struck while crossing the street.

Driver of the auto, 18-year-old student Charles Becker of 20 Garces drive, Parkmerced, was travelling north on Atlanta when the girl apparently dashed in front of his auto. He told police officers Gerrald Schaeffer and Stephen Steen that he did not see the girl but stopped when he heard the impact of her body against the car.

Police estimated Becker was travelling about 10 miles an hour at time of the accident.

Becker was not cited, after witnesses said the infant ran across the street in front of the vehicle.

The tot was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital and then transferred to Kaiser.

The girl's father is a well-known local landscape architect.

FIRED TEACHER GETS NOTICE, PLANS APPEAL

School teacher William P. Bell this week received formal notice of his dismissal by the Jefferson Elementary School district and promptly declared he would demand a public hearing.

"I will fight this all the way," he said Tuesday, after receiving a formal notice of suspension and dismissal which cited "immoral conduct, unprofessional conduct and unfitness for service" as reasons for his ouster. The notice reaffirmed action taken by the school board April 10.

Bell has 30 days from time of receipt of the notice, or until May 22, to request a public hearing.

The 34-year-old Colma school teacher has not worked in the classroom since January 31, after district administrators learned of his two arrests on misdemeanor morals charges.

On both occasions, charges against him were dismissed.

Bell said he would request a hearing "fairly soon," but was still waiting to consult further with his attorney.

As a routine matter, the district has also served notice on Bell that, as a probationary teacher, he will not be re-hired for the 1957-58 school year. Since he does not have tenure, he can be relieved of his job without cause.

Even if Bell is successful in his appeal, the litigation would probably not be completed in time for him to return to classroom work this year. At issue, however, is Bell's salary from the time he was suspended until the end of the fiscal year July 1.

No Progress On JESD Basin Site

A "no progress" report on negotiations for the controversial Westlake basin site and heated squabble between trustees and their engineer on sites in the proposed St. Francis Heights subdivision consumed much time Wednesday night in another marathon session of the Jefferson Elementary school board.

Trustee Hartley Appleton said "very little was accomplished" earlier this week when he and assistant superintendent Dave Shapiro conferred with Henry Doelger and his attorneys for possible purchase of the 17.6 acre basin site.

According to Appleton, Doelger gave no indication he'd sell the property to the district, repeating his idea for building a new 162-home subdivision there.

Doelger reportedly has spent $195,000 on the site to date, preparatory to getting municipal aproval for the project. His plans call for an exclusive subdivision, with homes starting at the price of $35,000.

Appleton added that Doelger mentioned he has been offered at least $20,000 an acre for 5 acres, and has been approached by St. Ignatius High School officials regarding the property.

Appleton and Shapiro reiterated the district's crucial needs for a minimum of 27 classrooms north of Alemany, but both said Doelger couldn't quite agree on the seriousness of the situation.

"Doelger suggested," Appleton went on, that we try to negotiate with the Olympic Club for some of their property."

"We already exhausted this possibility," Appleton declared. "I wish Doelger and his people could attend the State Allocations Board meet with us and see just how we stand."

The district, however, can resort to their right of eminent domain and condemn the property.

Big fuss developed late in Wednesday meeting when engineer Julius Castelan, hired

HERE MAY 15

Set Kindergarten Signup

Wednesday, May 15, has been set as the date of "Kindergarten Registration Day" in Jefferson Elementary School district, and Superintendent H. Z. Weibel urges parents to be prompt in registering their children.

Since classroom space is still at a premium, placement of youngsters in the schools will come on a virtual first-come first-serve basis. In the event kindergarten enrollment is curtailed, first consideration will be given to children who enroll on May 15, Weibel reminded.

To be eligible for kindergarten this September, a child must be five years old on or before December 2, 1957.

Registration on May 15 will be at the following schools: Colma Primary, General Pershing, Garden Village, Jefferson, Olympia, Westlake, Woodrow Wilson and Benjamin Franklin.

Persons whose last names begin with letters from A to L must register from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Those with last names from M to Z should register from 1 to 3 p.m.

Parents are required to bring their children's birth certificates when registering, and to report to the principal's office for instructions concerning the registering room.

Kindergarten boundaries, set for registration purposes and not necessarily determining the school the child will attend this fall, have been designated as follows:

General Pershing — Northeast of Wellington to San Francisco boundary. Between San Jose avenue and the mountains.

Woodrow Wilson — Area bounded by the San Francisco line on the north, Junipero Serra boulevard on the west, the high school on the south, Thiers street on the south, Wellington avenue on the north.

Jefferson — South of high school to South San Francisco area. East of Sweetwood to Mission.

Colma Primary — East of Mission from Thiers to cemetery area.

Garden Village—Broadmoor and Garden Village area.

Westlake—All area east of Shopping Center and Junipero Serra and area surrounding Westlake school.

Oympia — Area close by Olympia school and area bounded by Alemany on the north, Skyline, Fairlawn on the south and Lynnewood on the east.

Benjamin Franklin — Immediate area of the school, Highlands and Palisades.

That puts the responsibility for choosing competent trustees right where it belongs: with the voters — Johnny's parents, Susie's parents, you and me.

Since the law sets no standards, the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, among others, has compiled a list of qualifications in the CCPT publication "PTAs and School Boards." It's worth considering, so I quote from it here:

Qualifications

1. Devotion to public education as a basic concept in American life.

2. General interest in child welfare.

3. High standards of personal honesty, integrity and conduct.

4. Knowledge of the legal and civic responsibilities of school trusteees.

5. Willingness to give time and thought to doing the job well.

6. Objectivity and impartiality in making decisions by (a) avoiding personal and emotional bias, (b) being guided by what seems best educationally and financially for the children and the school district, (c) being willing to hear and consider all sides of controversial questions.

7. Ability to delegate authority to the professional personnel, once basic policies have been dtermined.

James Tormey, county superintendent of schools, comes up with almost the same conclusions in a brochure prepared by his office for the guidance of nominating committees. He is equally insistent on belief in democracy and free public education as the first essential for a school board member. His other headings are team member, all the children, time to spend, and policy responsibility.

If Johnny's mother or his teacher were to make up a list, they would probably want to add, from their experience in dealing with Johnny, some handy working tools like diplomacy, tact, patience, a sense of humor — the ability to get along with people — plus good common sense.

Where Are They

Now that we've decided what we're looking for, our next problem is— where do we find the likely candidates?

Since many of the school board's problems are legal and involve responsibility for a sizable budget, extensive personnel, large scale building, do we look for lawyers, accountants, pensonnel managers or business men?

According to a recent survey of trustees and superintendents, "effectiveness as a board member is most likely to occur when the individual is less than 60 years old, is well educated and is a parent of children in school. Professional men and business men are most likely to succeed. There is no evidence that women are more or less effective than men. A board member is likely to increase in effectiveness, at least during the first six years of service."

Tormey's committee guide has this to say: "We cannot define the board member in terms of economic status, employment classification, or any other social measure, for we find good school board members from all such social and economic levels."

It would probably be fair to conclude that a good school board member should be successful at something; it doesn't matter too much what.

Three Ways

There are three ways of becoming a school trustee.

The would-be candidate may file a signed statement with the county superintendent 30 days before the election, stating that he is a voter in the district and wishes his name placed on the ballot. (Ed. Code, Sec. 1815).

Or, (Sec. 1816) not less than 3 nor more than 10 voters who are parents of children attending schools in the district may, with his consent, propose placing his name on the ballot. The sponsors must declare that in their opinion their knowledge of the candidate is sufficient to warrant urging his election, and that, in their opinion, "he is fully qualified mentally, morally and physically for the office and should be elected to fill it."

The third way is by appointment to fill a vacancy.

Right here I want to make one point clear: the PTA nonpartisan policy applies to school elections as to all others. That means that "any group activity in support of any specific candidate for this or any public office on the part of any local parent - teacher unit, council, district or State is prohibited."

with the recreation commission at a special joint meeting May 8.

Councilman Paul Hupf proposed wrapping up the job under one contract, pointing out that it would not delay the work since the end of the fiscal year is nearing, at which time further funds can be appropriated. The $20,000 will be more than enough to make progress payments on any work completed before July 1, according to City Manager Howard Stites.

De Bernardi also took exception to extra help hired to draw up plans for completion of the building. He questioned Calhoun on two bills totalling more than $300 paid to draftsmen for weekend work.

Calhoun said the draftsmen worked on a fee basis on weekends, under his supervision.

"Too Many Jumps"

"This is too many jumps," De Bernardi exclaimed. "We've no plans for what we're going to do with the engineering office and we don't have any budget commitments for next year yet."

In discussing other recreation facilities, Mayor Joseph Verducci called for immediate surveys to determine park sites in the latest Doelger subdivision and in the McKeon St. Francis Heights development. Both builders have pledged land to be set aside for recreation facilities.

The mayor said in determining sites, the city should attempt to place them adjacent to proposed school sites in order to increase the size of the recreation areas.

Other Action

In other action Monday, the council:

1. Appointed Hupf to represent city at meeting with North County Council of Cities on proposed rapid transit legislation. Date for the meeting has not been set.

2. Approved seven duty statements for city jobs which had been tabled earlier pending discussion with the personnel board.

3. Agreed to protest Assembly bill which would allocate five per cent of municipal court fines and forfeitures to driving education. Councilmen Del Wilson and Hupf branded the legislation an "invasion of municipal revenue" that would set a precedent for further infringements on city funds.

4. Directed Stites to confer with Doelger on the latter's plans for extending South Mayfair avenue through over the Ocean Shore Railway hump.

5. Asked traffic survey on Elmwood, Southgate intersection.

Serra Hearing

6. Directed Stites to ask state division of highways for public hearing here on routing and dimension of Junipero Serra freeway within the city limits.

7. Approved variance for Michael Callan to construct apartment buildings on Sullivan avenue between 89th and 90th without normal 15-foot setback.

8. Endorsed continuation of the San Mateo county advisory planning council.

9. Approved business license for J. & K Auto Sales at 7469 Mission street.

Hi Teachers Seek $39,000 Pay Hike

have a good choice of personnel if we get agreement on this salary schedule. But competition for teachers, a nation-wide problem, is becoming more acute."

He continued that many forces shaped the committee's report, citing that above all, its considerations were based on the district's ability to meet the requests the next two or three years.

"Facts of life" voiced by Martin, Rose, Mrs. Marion Ebert, Ben Snyder and Emmett Tierney, among other things, were:

1. That JUHS teachers are still about 36 per cent behind in purchasing power compared to other wage and salary earners.

2. San Francisco area consistently shows higher cost of living index than nation-wide average. Almost 5 per cent hike in cost of living expected from January 1 to end of this year.

3. Starting salary in other professions requiring four-year college preparation on an average are the same as those of JUHS teachers with five years of college work behind them. And in other fields, wage scales are doubled after five years.

4. In JUHS it takes a teacher 14 years to hit a maximum salary, while state average is 12 years. Locally, JUHS beginning and maximum salary "gap" is much less than most other districts.

Main Changes

Under the 1957-58 proposal, JUHS teachers would not change the minimum salary outlay of $4400 nor the number of steps (14) to reach maximum salary. But they would add two more brackets in the determination of successive wage increases basd on the individual teacher's experience.

to survey and recommend three school sites on the Zanone property, presented his "preliminary" report on progress.

Trustees, needing action on his salary as requested by the district attorney to firm the contract, took almost unanimous exception to Castelan's suggestions as presented.

Castelan made three site recommendations, but one of them was outside the St. Francis Heights boundaries, setting off the bickering.

Castelan then was turned down when he asked authorization to survey outside the Zanone area.

Appleton and Michael Callan led the barrage, reminding the engineer he was to lay out the sites as per original agreement — within the proposed subdivision and according to board specifications.

Castelan finally gave in, and the trustees approved an outlay of $2500 for the job, half of which will be paid on Castelan's deadline date of June 1.

The meeting lasted until 20 minutes to 1 Thursday morning.

sumption," according to councilmen. Mayor Joseph Verducci held that Green "apparently thought we were going to do away with ambulance service altogether."

Under the contract tentatively approved by councilmen, Vogan will provide two 1954 vehicles, one of which will be exclusively for Daly City public emergency calls. Service will be on a 24-hour basis and the vehicle reserved for Daly City will be equipped with a two-way radio on the City's police frequency.

On indigent cases, Vogan will negotiate with the county for payment of fee and the city will not be held liable for any charges.

The one-year contract may be cancelled by either party on 90-day notice and City Manager Howard Stites said the present city-owned ambulance would be retained as an "insurance" measure in event service is not adequate.

Stites said abandonment of the municipal service would save the city about $3549 per year. He said only cost to the city would be installation of the two-way radio, estimated at between $450 and $500.

that attention was focused on the debate instead of the public schools week activities.

According to May's version, he questioned the presence of John Brannon with a group of anti-tax citizens who are backing Stephen Rewak for trustee against incumbent Louis Duncan.

"Surprised Me"

"It surprised me to see Brannon with this group," Mays said. "I mentioned something to him about it and he became aggravated." The two exchanged words, after which the debate moved outside.

The battle was strictly verbal, but departure of the anti-tax group was punctuated with hoots and catcalls and general disturbance outside the confines of the school.

According to Mays, several of the anti-tax group had made "nasty cracks" to superintendent Natalie Lipman.

Mays said he and Brannon met the following morning and shook hands over the whole incident.

The tax issue, defeated by a slim margin earlier this year, has generated one of the hottest campaigns in Brisbane's political history.

Back Tax Hike

Duncan and the rest of the board, along with a sizeable contingent of civic groups, is backing the May 17 ballot measure to allow an increase in the Brisbane school tax limit from $1.65 per $100 of assessed valuation to $2.45.

Laura Johnson, third candidate in the elementary school race, withdrew last week, pledging her support to Rewak. Mrs. Johnson told THE RECORD that after the incident at the school she and other anti-tax committee members returned to her home for a meeting and received several anonymous phone calls.

She also claimed that youngsters threw dirt at her car as she was leaving the school.

Temporary Reservoir Fails Purity Test

De Bernardi, pointing out that he had obtained prices on steel tanks which could be used as permanent structures, said purchase of the wooden tank "should have been brought to the council."

Calhoun replied that immediate delivery could not be obtained on steel tanks and for reasons of the emergency, the wooden facility had been ordered.

Councilman Paul Hupf argued that the council had discussed the reservoir situation at length and maintained that the council "doesn't want to be burdened with a great deal of details."

Mayor Joseph Verducci reprimanded De Bernardi, stating, "You went out on your own and got these figures...we're lay people and we're paying people good money to do this work for us." He said it was "not right" for De Bernardi to undertake the price estimate project.

"I was elected by the people and can do so if I see fit," replied De Bernardi abruptly.

Answering De Bernardi's statement that the city might "be out $14,000 if the tests show the tank is not safe," City Manager Howard Stites said the city had a guarantee on the cistern.

"We'll hold up payment of the check if that satisfies you," said Hupf.

ple for approval.

Vickers said 250 workers will be sought, some four for each of the precincts in Daly City and adjacent unincorporated areas. Each precinct will be headed up by a captain.

Vickers said the kick-off was being delayed until May 25 to avoid any conflict with school board elections May 17.

"The whole campaign will only take three or four days if we handle it right," he said.

Of first importance, he continued, is organizing crews to circulate the petitions. Anyone interested was asked to contact Vickers at PL 5-3590.

Vickers said union groups will be enlisted, as well as merchants associations and civic groups. William Sweeney and Martorana are handling the campaign among businessmen.

Throughout the county, between 8000 and 9000 signatures have been obtained on the initiative petitions out of the estimated 12,000 needed to place the amendment on the county ballot.

In San Carlos, where the sales tax has already been put into effect, a citizens committee this week started circulation of petitions, one for the county measure and a second to rescind the city sales tax.

GOVERNMENT BY AFFIRMATIVE NOD

The $1400 city reservoir incident at Monday's council meeting demonstrates how far "professionalism" has advanced and policy-making has receded in Daly City's brief history since adoption of the manager type of government.

Majority of the council held that the recent purchase of a $1400 wooden tank as a temporary reservoir was an administrative matter, and one beneath the more esoteric policy-making functions of a councilman.

The lone councilman who objected to the hasty action maintained that purchase of a temporary water storage facility to be used while repairing the quake-cracked reservoir was a matter that should have commanded council attention.

Majority argument was that councilmen were laymen, and not qualified to obtain estimates and argue the relative merits of wooden as opposed to steel or other types of tanks.

They claimed that the city paid "good money" to professionals to decide these questions.

Besides, it was argued, the purchase was made under emergency conditions.

The quake occurred March 22. An expenditure of this amount could have been presented for council perusal at their official meeting the following Monday, March 25, or at the April 8 session.

Not only should the $1400 un-budgeted allocation have been a matter of policy, but the decision on what type tank was to be erected should have been up to council discretion.

Certainly the council must delegate some of its authority to its paid employees.

But the mayor's contention that any outside "spade work" by a councilman was not in order was a startling example of the inroad administrators have made into policy making fields.

A councilman must be alert to all that goes on in his community.

To infer that an elected official is meddling because he expresses an interest in the expenditures of his city is a sorry commentary on local government.

Multiply Monday's incident by hundreds of other similar infringements on the body politic, and you'll have a council that merely nods heads in assent to administrative decisions.

Hardly any need to elect a council for this perfunctory task. Five more "professionals" could do the job just as well. Providing they've had experience in the affirmative nod.

ALMOST A CIRCUS

Hollywood-Like Shindig For Post Office Debut

Next Wednesday will mark the beginning of one of the largest celebrations ever held in Westlake Shopping Center.

First event on the program will be the staging of the Wells Fargo stage coach mail run from the Westlake office of the Daly City post office to San Francisco main post office at Seventh and Mission streets. Complete with a special cachet letter for philatelists, the coach is to leave the Westlake office, 201 Southgate avenue, at 11 a.m., pick up a special money shipment from the Westlake branch of the Bank of America, and take the old Alemany trail to San Francisco. Bill Zappentini, member of the civic committee in charge of the celebration, will head up the mail run, according to an announcement by Peter J. Markovich, chairman.

Coincidental with the mail run, federal, state, county and local dignitaries will gather at 2 p.m. for the dedication ceremonies for the new post office and the California State Department of Motor Vehicle building, 199 Southgate avenue.

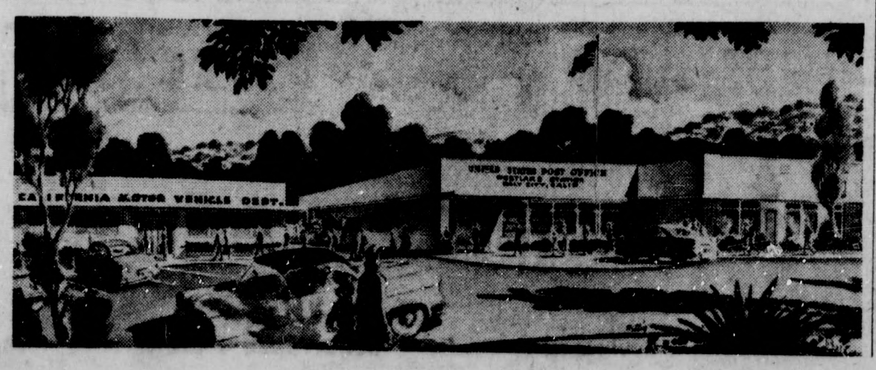
Plans call for a mammoth civic celebration at the site of the two new buildings. The Twelfth Naval District band and color guard will be on hand for the event, while Marines from the Seventh Battalion at Tanforan will aid in the raising of the colors over the two new edifices.

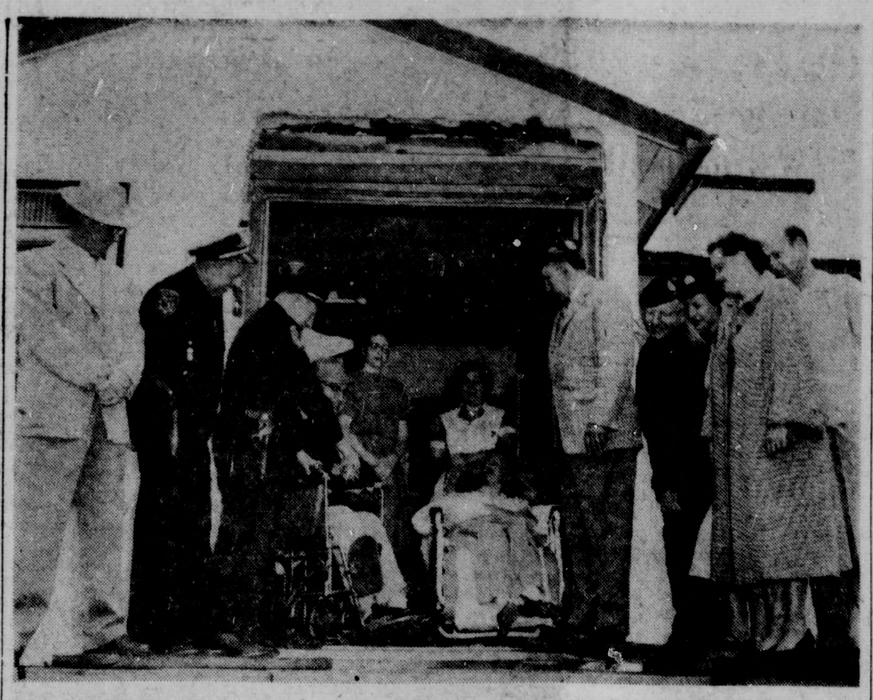
Wednesday also marks the opening of the Westlake Boat, Travel and Vacation show, slated for a four-day run in the Westlake Shopping Center. Plans call for a display of boats throughout the vast 64-store shopping center, while vacation ideas and travel suggestions will occupy the remainder of the center.

One of the features of the show will be the complete camping scene to be erected by Sears. Complete with a forest, the setting will include everything to interest the outdoor camper. Tents, boats, trailers and camping accessories will be on display in the forest.

Other features will include one of the largest arrays of boats, motors and boat accessories ever assembled in a shopping center. Railroads, steamship line and airlines are cooperating in presenting va-

DALY CITY'S new Westlake post office branch on Southgate will be formally opened in ceremonies next Wednesday. Adjacent department of motor vehicles office opened last week.





HAPPINESS on the many faces during this fateful shot at invalid Dalton's home in Broadmoor last Saturday disappeared early Tuesday morning with the sudden death of Dan's brave wife, Betty. Folks above played key roles in community-wide campaign to help pair. Volunteers specifically raised more than $300 and recruited labor for a door and ramp extension at rear of residence. Outdoor paint job is due soon to complete project. Betty Dalton Succumbs

Death Dims Fund Drive

By ROY HURLBERT

Dan Dalton of Broadmoor isn't alone today by any means.

But the wheelchair-confined veteran has lost his partner in his heroic struggle against fate.

Dan's courageous wife, Betty, Alabama-born woman of only 29 years, died unexpectedly early Tuesday morning. The end came during sleep, due to respiratory failure — one of Betty's main concerns after a 10-year battle with life-taking multiple sclerosis.

Struggle Ends

Dan, less invalided, but knowing he'll never walk again due to a spine-shattering accident, discovered Betty's lifeless body about 4:15 a.m. He noticed her light breathing, then none at all. During the night, Dan said Betty had several spasms, a usual occurrence. Family doctor Robert Durand confirmed the cause of death. Betty simply couldn't sustain the struggle with the nerve-destroying disease.

Strangely, the mild tragedy came just as neighbors in Broadmoor and throughout the area were putting finishing touches on a drive to help the Daltons.

Mainly through Chief Ray Savage and Gwin Mitchell, the community effort netted $300 plus for a needed door and ramp extension at the couple's modest home. Labor was donated in the mass project, which will be climaxed soon with an exterior paint job for the entire residence.

Tearful Irony

Betty appeared in high spirits Saturday when Dalton Drive backers assembled at 1024 Gilman drive to view progress of the work. None suspected the end was so near for the gallant, withered woman.

Funeral services are being handled by Duggan's at 3434 17th street in San Francisco. Saddened Dan said burial would be in Vallejo, where he met Betty in a story-book romance. Betty's one wish was that she be laid to rest alongside Dan. And this desire will be fulfilled.

As mentioned before, Dan isn't alone despite his and the community's loss.

"Life is like that . . . but there must be a reason for it," one friend sorrowfully remarked.

Friends are invited to Duggan's this Thursday, with services scheduled Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Private interment is planned.

Disaster Council To Study Booklet, Center Thursday

Daly City's civil disaster council will meet next Thursday night at city hall to study final draft of a civil defense booklet and review plans of the control center to be located in PG&E offices on Edgemar road.

The booklet will be published by the city and distributed to residents to advise them what precautions to take in time of attack or disaster.

Also on the agenda will be a review on operations during the March 22 earthquake.

A film on the 1954 Bakersfield tremblor may be shown.

Representatives of local public and parochial schools and the two national guard units have been invited to the meet, which starts at 8 p.m.

W'lake Coed Garten Will Chairman First Cal Poly 'Playday'

Daly City's Greta Garten, junior physical education major at California State Polytechnic college, has been appointed chairman of the program committee for the first coed playday at Cal Poly. Traditionally all-male, Cal Poly admittted coeds this year for the first year since 1929.

A resident of Westlake, Miss Garten is an active member of the Women's Athletic association, newly formed athletic club which is sponsoring the playday. High schools throughout the country are invited to the meet which will be held in May.

Miss Garten is a 1953 graduate of Maryville High school, Maryville, Missouri. Prior to entering Cal Poly last fall, she attended Northwest Missouri State college, Fresno State college, and San Luis Obispo junior college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garten, 180 Lynnewood drive.

Red Cross Aids 18 Earthquake Sufferers Here

Requests for disaster assistance from the San Mateo County Chapter of Red Cross by Daly City and Westlake victims of the March 22 earthquake have doubled in the past ten days. The chapter is now giving aid to 18 families whose homes suffered structural damage, according to Edward George, disaster chairman for the Chapter.

Mrs. Barney Bristow, family service chairman for the disaster committee, who is handling the applications, pointed out that "when five or more families suffer damage beyond their own ability to repair, in a natural emergency of some nature, the Red Cross considers it a disaster and acts accordingly."

"The 16 applications filed with our chapter have been declared qualified for Red Cross aid," she said, "and arrangements are well under way for repair of the homes."

She also stated that any additional families who feel they need Red Cross aid may still file claims and their requests will be given careful consideration. This Red Cross service is made possible by the public's gifts through the United Bay Area Crusade and is an outright gift to disaster victims.

Broadmoor Folks Sweat Out Kinks In Clean-up Week

Second annual "clean-up week" opened Monday in Broadmoor with furious activity of shrub trimming, garage swamping and weed pulling.

The homeowners' efforts will pay off Sunday when workers hired by Broadmoor Property Owners association will make the rounds of the village and pick up all the debris, miscellaneous junk and trimmings.

Pick-up will start early Sunday morning and all junk should be placed on the sidewalk in front of the homes on Saturday night, according to BPOA president Bob Buchanan. All material should be boxed, sacked or tied to facilitate hauling.

During the week residents are urged to give their property a thorough clean-up in preparation for Sunday's pick-up.

CITIZENS' BOND UNIT STEPS UP 'PASSAGE' PUSH

With "V Day" (voting) less than a month away, steering unit of the Citizens' Bond committee backing the Jefferson Union High School district's bond and state aid election this week stepped up their inform-the-public tempo.

The 17-member group, composed of area chairmen from Daly City, Colma, Broadmoor, North Coastside, Brisbane and Bayshore, ironed out a few more details last week in their second meeting. Next session is this Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the superintendent's office, 375 South Mayfair, room 214.

Advertising and appeals to the 25,000 registered voters in the district are the next objectives of the committee in their step-by-step campaign.

Cites Progress

Chairman Peter J. Markovich reports that $1400 of the estimated $2000 for publicity has been donated this far, and "progress has been rapid in the individual areas."

Chairmen are studying voting indexes in the major areas and soon will send out letters to approximately 5000 residents asking them to vote "yes" on both issues. Funds are not available to provide such letters to all the registered voters, Markovich said.

The district, over-populated and lacking funds to complete Westmoor and build two new schools by 1960, seeks approval at the polls on $2,900,000 in bonds and an $8 million state loan.

Both issues must pass as a package, since if the district is unsuccessful on the bond requst it will not be eligible for state aid. Thus more double sessions, the uncomfortable and unwieldy status now shared by Jefferson and Westmoor students.

Westmoor High is expected to open this fall for 1200 students, same population as Jefferson. But student projections made by Stanford cite the necessity of at least two more plants within the next four years. Both new schools are tabbed for the Coastside, one in Sharp Park, the second in the Linda Mar area.

More helpers turned up at last week's Citizens' Committee were: Thomas Noonan, Sterling Park Home Owners association president; Stanley Brown, president of Garden Village Property Owners association; Don Williams and Mrs. Larry Green, Broadmoor area, and Mrs. Edward Goldkuhl, Westlake area.

Letters To The Editor

County Maintains Publicity 'Curb' On Delinquents

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Recently San Francisco papers have seen fit to change their policy on printing names and addresses of juveniles involved in difficulty with the law. They have adopted the policy of printing such data. As far as I know, the peninsula papers have not adopted this policy.

In the light of this change of policy on the part of the San Francisco newspapers, I feel it imperative to indicate to you that there has been no change in the policy of the Probation Department with respect to this matter. Our policy is still as follows:

"It is the policy of the Juvenile Court to keep the names and addresses of juveniles dealt with by the Probation Department confidential except in those few cases of marked violence wherein there is great public interest. The judge of the Juvenile Court will determine when names and addresses are to be released in specific cases."

Cordially,
SID COWGILL
Chief Probation Officer, San Mateo County

Francis Prefers 'Rural' Freeway

Assemblyman Louis Francis today told THE RECORD that he is "in favor of Route B and opposed to Route A," proposed by the State Division of Highways to extend Junipero Serra boulevard beyond its present terminus at Crystal Springs road in San Bruno through San Mateo County to San Jose.

Francis said he favors Route B at present, provided that the people of San Bruno are protected with a proper swing-off to Skyline boulevard for the extension and feeder road.

He pointed out that despite the urgent necessity of this freeway, protection is also necessary for San Bruno so that heavy traffic will not flow into the residential areas and radically alter the character of the city. After careful studies and full hearings, he is confident such protection can be given to San Bruno and he will exert every effort towards this end.

Briefly, Route B calls for the freeway in rural areas, while Route A would cut through residential districts, a factor stirring up much opposition.

Cancer Crusade Chairmen Here Await Campaign

Plans for the annual fund-raising drive of American Cancer Society are rapidly being completed, according to Mrs. Henry Friedman, Daly City chairman. April 29 through May 3 are the dates for the door-to-door campaign in the North San Mateo county area.

Slogan for the drive will be "Fight Cancer With a Check-up and a Check," Mrs. Friedman said. "Twin purposes will be to arm the community with life-saving information about cancer, and to raise funds for support of year-round research, education, and service programs of the American Cancer Society."

Mrs. Friedman has announced that Mrs. John J. Eckert will serve as Daly City co-chairman. Mrs. Eckert is well known for PTA activities. She recently held office as president of Jefferson High PTA.

Among those who will serve as captains in the Daly City area, east of Junipero Serra, under the direction of Mrs. Eckert are Mesdames John A. Eason, Lynn V. Cinti, Andrew Castle and William M. Rudometkin.

Mrs. H. S. Garrison, Westlake Cancer Society chairman, reports enthusiastic cooperation on the part of volunteers in that area. Following captains are now organizing neighborhood campaigns in Westlake: Mesdames Arthur Brown, E. A. Dillon, Joseph Shea, Frank Verducci, John Wahl and Max Wahl.

Mrs. J. Stanley Bellinger, Broadmoor chairman, states that rapid progress has been made in her area. Following women are acting as Cancer Crusade captains in Broadmoor under Mrs. Bellinger: Mesdames A. Bolander, G. Brandt, Kenneth Brugge, D. Hurst, Lawrence Magoon, R. Meade, Robert Northrop, Robert Stagg and O. M. Warner.

Notes at Random: After living in Daly City for 15 years, the Walter Rentschs on Peoria bid their many friends adieu last week for a new address on Heath avenue in Saratoga. Mrs. M., an active member in various groups, will be missed. Members of the Birthday club met at the home of Mrs. June Gaviiio on Lausanne recently for luncheon bearing gifts for the month's birthday girl, Mrs. Barbara Baughn, also of Lausanne.

We members in the Friendly Neighbors club on Abbot held our first progressive dinner at a recent meeting. The evening went: before dinner drinks and hors d'oeuvres at Mrs. Gerry Vickers' home, salad at my house (I pulled a big boo-boo, forgot to serve antipasto, olives and pickles), main entree at Mrs. Ruth Huelses, followed by dessert and coffee at Mrs. Doris Olmansons. BRAVE ELEMENTS

1500 Kiddies Hunt Eggs In Tenth Annual Search

Despite threatening skies, Daly City's 10th annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday proved a "humdinger" for approximately 1500 youngsters who braved the elements to track down what Brer Rabbit left.

Summation came from Dee. R. Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation, who supplied these specifics.

Special awards for finding gold and silver eggs went to:

Westlake Park—Jeannette Harrison, 10, and Jeffery Spiegelman, 4, gold eggs; Dennis Kunz and Danielle Buchanan, six and under class, and Gary Majourau and Jimmy Buddhu, seven through 12 bracker, silver eggs.

Marchbanks—Gary Aronson, 6, and Jimmy Fife, 11, gold eggs; Eddie Rankin, Tommy Wyman, Joe Gordon and Ray Lorenzo Valley, silver eggs.

Edgewood — Patrick Potter and Mike Steele, gold eggs; David Palmer, Kenny Gollehon, Helen Martinez and Donald Palmer, silver eggs.

Frankfort— Robert Landau and Madalyn Tremaroli, golden eggs; Connie Lerios, David Ross, Joseph Ragni and Mary Ann Ragni, silver eggs.

Van Nest extends special thanks to the many Girl Scouts who helped to wrap the more than 5000 eggs.

The big hunt was jointly sponsored by the department of parks and recreation, chamber of commerce, dentist Leo Mahan, Spotlite Market, Lombardi Auto Construction and Conci Shell Station.

All in all, a busy stint for all hands—recipients and donors alike. Also for old Long Ears.

4 JEFF SENIORS VIE IN BANK'S AWARD CONTEST

Four Jefferson High students this Thursday will compete with 31 other seniors from San Mateo county high schools for rewards that ultimately may be as high as $1000 in the Bank of America's 1957 Achievement Awards program.

Jefferson students entered and their categories: Edyth Guidry, fine arts; Bruce Feeland, science and mathematics; Florence Verducci, liberal arts, and Arlene Barone, vocational arts.

First, second and third place winners in each of the four fields of study will be selected by a judging panel of five community leaders in Thursday's two-zonal events, one for private schools at San Francisco and the other for public schools in Redwood City.

First place winners will advance to the nine-county Bay area finals in May in San Francisco. There they are assured of at least $100 and may gain as much as $1000.

Second and third place winners at the zone event receive $50 and $25 respectively.

Candidates in the fine arts field are scheduled to convene at 1 p.m. for interviews before the judging panel. Science and mathematics, liberal arts and vocational arts candidates are to follow at hourly intervals.

CSM President To Be Guest Speaker At Westlake Meet

Julio L. Bortolazzo, president of the College of San Mateo and superintendent of the San Mateo Junior College district, will be guest speaker at the Westlake - Olympia PTA meeting on the evening of May 2 at 7:45 o'clock. The session will be held in the multi-use room of Westlake school.

A native Californian, Bortolozzo studied at Harvard university and taught at the University of Maine, University of Washington, and College of the Pacific. From 1942 to 1946, he served as a lieutenant in the Navy; he has been principal of schools in Portland, Oregon, and at Stockton. He was president of Stockton college. In 1955 he made a survey of vocational education in Italy for the United States and Italian governments.

"From all reports, we hear that this man is a most enjoyable speaker and with his tremendous background he is bound to have something to say to each parent attending this meeting," states Mrs. Robert Cohn, new president. "I feel he deserves the honor of a large turn-out."

St. Michael's Moms Choose Mrs. Wells New Club President

Mrs. Wilbur Wells heads the 1957-58 officers of St. Michael's Mothers club, it was announced today.

Others elected, the Mesdames Kenneth Fahy, vice president; Joseph Lagrave, recording secretary; John Collins, financial secretary; John Murtagh, treasurer; Ignacio Rivera, auditor; John McCarrick, historian, and Louis Ciappoini, parliamentarian.

PLANNING to get rid of these Canada crutches is Westlake's Phil Segal. He was operated on this week to improve his polio-shattered legs. March Of Dimes has been his main "crutch."

WESTLAKER TESTIFIES

March Of Dimes Receives Another Pat On The Back

No one can sing the praises of the March of Dimes louder than Phil Segal, 33-year-old Westlake resident, 865 Southgate avenue.

Thanks to this organization, the nation's favorite charity, Segal and hundreds like him are filled with hope.

Spinal polio felled energetic Phil in November of 1953, just a month after he moved here from San Francisco.

Grim Diagnosis

Paralyzed from the waist down and told, at first, he'd never walk again, Segal buckled down for a comeback. And who supplied the funds for his care? The public — you — through the March Of Dimes.

After three months of free hospitalization, Phil was released—with leg braces. For the next 18 months he was an out-patient at Mt. Zion hospital, reporting periodically for rehabilitation. This exercise therapy, mostly thrice-weekly swimming, speeded his recovery. Finally discharged in the best condition possible, Segal returned—on Canada crutches —to his partnership in a Bay Area war surplus sales firm.

The disease left Phil in bad condition, his right leg shriveled considerably, his left even worse, the thigh muscles terribly shot.

One More Step

This Tuesday, Segal underwent surgery at University of California hospital. Surgeons transplanted muscle from the back of his left leg to the front of the limb. If this strengthening works —results in about eight weeks— Phil will discard his hand crutches for a cane. That's the peak he's shooting for on the recovery road.

"The March Of Dimes deserves all the credit you can give," Segal told THE RECORD. "Polio can happen to anybody, young and old, and money for the painstaking treatment is something folks just can't afford. These March Of Dimes people do wonderful work. And believe me, they really care."

Active in athletics at Poly High before he spent four years in the Navy, Phil naturally misses the "old times" in sports. But no defeatist, he hopes his aspirations in athletics will be realized by his boys, Guy Allen, 4, and Craig Lee, 1.

And you can bet he'll donate quite a share to the fight against polio—so others may erase the fear, and smile again.

Citizens Group Says Trustee Not Endorsed

Citizens Committee for Better Schools declared this week that they did not officially endorse Doris Wimberly as Jefferson Elementary School district trustee.

Referring to a news article which stated "it is believed she (Mrs. Wimberly) had the backing of the Citizens committee," Lawrence D. Freiberg, chairman, said "We are not in a position to either endorse or back specific candidates."

Freiberg said "although most of our membership was in favor of Mrs. Wimberly, we would like to make clear the position of our group. Under our by-laws we attempt to insure that capable persons are encouraged to seek election for the boards of trustees of the school district."

The chairman said his group's non-indorsement policy "would not preclude individual members from supporting various candidates on their own."

Mrs. Wimberly was appointed to the school board this month

Coastsider Struck By Auto Critical

A 75-year-old Edgemar man was still in critical condition at Community hospital today after being hit by a car Tuesday while crossing Junipero Serra boulevard at Knowles avenue.

Police said Thomas Taylor, 519 Beaumont avenue, was struck by a car driven by Allen L. Blair, 59, an accountant of 1137 Rivera street, San Francisco.

Blair told police he was driving about 35 miles an hour in the fast lane when Taylor suddenly appeared in the roadway in front of him. The driver was not cited.

Taylor was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for possible head and internal injuries and a fractured ankle and transferred to Community.

'Puss In Boots' Hits SF Sunday Afternoon

Next production of the San Francisco Children's Opera will be "Puss In Boots," scheduled for the Marines Memorial theater this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A cast of 30, including dancers from the Betty May studio and an orchestra, will be featured. Spotlight will be centered on Robin Foreman as "Puss."

Tickets, 75 cents and $1, are on sale at the Crane box office, 245 Powell street, or the Children's Opera office, 410 Arguello boulevard, SK 2-3053. All seats are reserved.

Westmoor High will not be represented, since the new school does not have a senior class.

W'lake 'Neighbor' Fund Drive Brings In $6300

With $6300 in the kitty as a result of last Thursday's house-to-house canvass, the Westlake Improvement association was still accepting donations this week in its drive toward $50,000 to aid residents hardest hit by the March 22 earthquake.

Checks continued to come in from persons not contacted in the Thursday neighbor drive, while a few donations were reported from Oakland, Alameda and elsewhere throughout the state.

In preparation for distribution of the funds to distressed families, the association this week urged applicants for assistance to phone the association after Friday at PL 5-1352.

Severest Need

A screening committee of clergyme nand civic leaders will distribute the funds on the basis of the severest need.

Cass Norton, WIA president and general chairman of the drive, reported that out of approximately 3200 homes canvassed by some 250 workers, donations were received from 2200 homeowners. Contributions ranged from a nickel given by a little girl to checks for $10 and $20 and upwards.

The $6300 received in the campaign was believed to be the largest sum ever collected in Westlake in a one-night effort.

Norton said letters asking donations have been sent out to homeowners who were not available Thursday night and that the total figure is expected more dollars by the time the to swell by several thousand final tally is made.

25 Ask Aid

Alyce Shea, WIA secretary, said she had on hand about 25 applications for assistance and expected many more to come in after the drive is completed.

Amount of financial assistance to be given each stricken family will depend on the severity of need and the total amount of contributions received, the association said.

The 250 workers who made the canvass Thursday worked more than three hours in the gargantuan task of contacting practically every homeowner. Richard Dwyer was in charge of solicitations.

Switchblade Bill Nears Acceptance

The State Senate Judiciary committee Monday unanimously passed Assemblyman Louis Francis' bill to make it unlawful for any person to carry or sell a switchblade knife over two inches in length.

The measure has four co-authors and was unanimously passed by the Assembly and has now been sent to the Senate for approval.

Francis commented, "Although many cities have enacted ordinances prohibiting switchblade knives, it is imperative that this state law be enacted for uniformity and more effective law enforcement."

He explained that the limitation of knives with a blade over two inches in length is reasonable and was amended in the original bill to preserve individual property rights. Records have shown that knives with blades longer than two inches have caused severe bodily injuries and serious damage to property.

Four-Year College Urged For County

Resolution urging appropriation of state funds for a four-year college in San Mateo college was passed by the city council Monday night after an appeal from Walter Truce, attorney appearing for the American Association of University Women.

Truce declared that San Mateo county's need for such a higher education facility is as great or greater than any other county in the state but that it has been neglected because "nobody took the trouble to ask for the college."

He explained that a recent state survey establishing priority for four-year colleges did not even include San Mateo county because nobody requested such a study.

Truce said that the state has $60,000,000 available for construction of colleges and "we want one for this county."

Truce, in answer to a council inquiry, said he had no idea in what portion of the county the four-year college would be located.

The resolution to press for the four-year institution here passed unanimously, with Mayor Joseph Verducci, an employee of San Francisco State college, abstaining. Ten other Peninsula cities have passed similar resolutions.

Trustees Contract Seven More High District Teachers

Contracts were okayed Monday night for seven new teachers to join the Jefferson Union High School district certified staff next year.

Added to Principal Glenn South's Westmoor faculty next fall were: Mrs. Ruth Brown, English department; John Homan, business education; Pete Matisi, former USF football star, physical education; Shirley Minaker, physical education,and Louis Moore, English department.

Trustees accepted Principal John Mongan's recommendations of Arthur Carr, audio-visual aids coordinator, and Dick Larsen, music department.

Matisi will replace Westmoor's Frank "Dutch" Meyer, who will leave his post this June for a position in the collegiate coaching ranks. The newcomer, a member of USF's fine teams of the Ollie Matson era, currently is head football and baseball coach at sports-strong Serra High.

South said Matisi will handle varsity football and frosh-soph baseball in Tony Giammona's department.

Monday's action pushed the number of new teachers hired for 1957-58 to 17 — 13 of them for Westmoor.

Approximately four more new instructors will be contracted by this June. District presently has 97 teachers. Scheduled opening of the modern Westmoor plant is main reason for additional certificated staff members.

'Phone Call' Bill OK'd By Assembly

A bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo was unanimously passed Tuesday by the Assembly Judiciary Committee, giving arrested persons the right to make telephone calls from the police station to their attorneys, employers, or relatives.

The bill also makes it a misdemeanor for any public officer or employee who deprives arrested persons of this right.

Over the vigorous protests of the district attorneys, sheriffs and peace officers associations, the Committee agreed with Francis' contention that innocent people, particularly the families of arrested persons are caused needless hardship and anxiety when the person is confined overnight or for long periods before being permitted to notify them.

DEMONSTRATING the art of fishing for toys to Susan and Robby McFadden is Mrs. Robert White. Sure, trout season starts this Saturday, but what's more important to the youngsters is the toy fishing "sport" that will be one of the many activities to be offered at Our Lady of Mercy church's Westlake Festival May 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Hall Gets 'Face-Lifting' As OLM Festival Nears

Under the supervision of Stan Fenton, chairman of construction and decorations, the hall of Our Lady of Mercy church is undergoing a major face-lifting job as preparations for the gala Westlake Festival, scheduled for May 2, 3, 4 and 5, near completion.

Those working on this project are Jack McKenna, George Bigon and Bob Carberry with the assistance of Paul Churchwell, Rich MacCabe, Buz Davenport, Ernie Cookston, Joe Trapani, George Butler, Ray Forsina, Bill Mahoney, Steve Kristovich and Paul Geisler. These men have been working every spare moment doing the necessary work involved in building the booths, most of which are in the final stages of completion, the festival committee said.

At the same time the men are now busy applying final coats of pale green paint to the walls and doors of the hall and the ladders. Empty paint buckets and sanding materials are evidence of the labor that is being spent on this task.

The final artistic touches are being supplied by Bob McFaddon and Mrs. Richard English, who, with the assistance of Lloyd Madigan and Foster Jones have used their professional skill and "know-how" to create three dimensional, hand painted and glittered cutouts. These depict such scenes as the "Three Little Pigs" to represent the ham and bacon booth, and "Candy Land" for the cake and candy booth. "Over each will be hung a lettered and glittered sign and the booths are sure to be remembered long after the festival is over for their fabulous decorations," the committee declared.

Stay On Right Side, Inspector Advises

Stay on the right side.

Daly City traffic inspector Henry Sundermann made this plea today, pointing out that accident investigation has shown that cars parked on the wrong side of the street have been the cause of many local automobile mishaps.

"It is a violation to drive your vehicle on the wrong side of the street," he said. "When you park on the wrong side you are forced to drive on the wrong side for a short distance while pulling away from the curb," the inspector explained. This results in many accidents, he pointed out.

Sundermann said that warning citations are being issued for cars parked on the wrong side of the street.

Later the warnings will be changed to citations and fines, he said.

The class will show some of the dances learned during the year. Anyone who wants to come and join in a dos-a-dos or promenade or Texas Star is welcome. There will be four groups of four dances each; three will be given by the class, and the fourth will be for guest participation. If there are enough experienced guest dancers, Miss Maclaren says she will put on a Hambo or some other special favorite as an intermission treat.

There will be in extension term for the present class being taught, and it will now last through May, Miss Maclaren has announced. The fee is $1.25, including cokes, and some eight or ten more advanced dances will be taught, such as triple schottische, corrido, clap and turn, and the German harvest dance.

Start Work On St. Martin's This Summer

Marking its most productive week to date, with the successful completion of its recent building fund campaign and the largest Sunday attendance in its history, St. Martin's Episcopal church has just announced that construction of its building at Southgate avenue and Bradley drive will definitely begin this summer.

Pledges and contributions amounting to about $30,000 have been secured, according to D. R. Wainwright, church warden and head campaign canvasser, enabling building to start as soon as the contract is let. Follow-up committees to collect pledges, contact new arrivals, and secure additional funds on a continuing basis will be headed by Richard Hall, Glenhall Taylor and Hubert Arthur.

Combined attendance at three Easter Sunday services was approximately 350, the church's largest turnout to date, states the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar. Family service at 9:30 a.m., featuring the formation of a floral cross and the presentation of "mite boxes" containing the children's Lenten offerings, attracted the largest congregation, but a record gathering at the 8 a.m. communion and 11 a.m. choral communion service in Westlake auditorium, 333 Park Plaza drive, was also noted.

Complete with birthday cake and other delicious refreshments, the work of Mrs. Nicoletti, the evening was a great success, and one the Guts and their friends will long remember.

Final preparations have been made for the Guild's Fellowship luncheon and bake sale, to be held at the church this Friday, April 26, at 11:30 a.m. The Luncheon committee, according to its chairman, Agnes Sirianni, has prepared a menu that will be tempting to the eye, and most pleasing to the taste. Chairman of the Bake Sale committee, Elsie Espen, has assured everyone that there will be a variety of tempting goodies. Ask DC Support For Blood Bank Visit Next Tues.

An appeal to Daly City residents to support the visit of the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank's mobile unit at Westlake school next Tuesday was made today by Robert E. Watson, chairman.

"It is imperative that at least 100 residents visit the mobile unit in order to insure its returning here," Watson said. "This service is provided strictly to assist the residents of this city. The mobile unit makes it unnecessary for us to travel down to Burlingame or in to San Francisco to give blood.

"Any blood donated will be on the donor's credit list until used. The reserve can be used for any organization for the benefit of its members. By building up a blood credit reserve the group can save its members some $22 in costs per pint of blood.

"Individuals who wish to give blood towards friends or relations also may come and be served.

"By building up our own reserve of blood credits we in Daly City are better able to take care of our own residents not only in case of sickness, but in any type of disaster which might strike our community. To those of you who have not participated in this project, we urge you to begin now your own insurance against such a time in later years when you may need blood transfusion."

Watson noted that the mobile unit has made successful trips to the North Coastside, Half Moon Bay, San Carlos, Redwood City, Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Mountain View and Los Altos.

"All churches, unions, fraternal organizations are urged to participate. The blood bank never refuses anyone a pint of blood, but is must have a backlog," he stated.

"We want Daly City to make at least as good a showing as the other communities."

The unit will be at the school from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. Reservations can be made with Watson at PL 5-0244 or at the blood bank OX 7-4034.

Westlake Group Asks New Trial On Dues Verdict

Westlake Improvement association attorney J. W. Jackson last week filed motion for new trial to upset the municipal court decision which held that a Westlake homeowner did not have to pay dues and assessments to the property owners group.

Jackson filed the action with Judge J. A. Branson's court. Branson last year ruled in favor of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Opperman in the "dues" case which has been in litigation more than two years. The jurist declared payment of the annual dues and assessments to the association was not mandatory.

The new trial motion was based on a routine argument that the trial contained "irregularities of procedure."

The association has until Friday to file affidavits presenting its arguments for the new trial.

Next step is setting date for hearing arguments on the motion.

Jackson said that two-year-old suits against five other Westlake couples for payment of dues and assessments would be held in abeyance until outcome of the appeal for a new trial.

SSF Kingpin Jefferson Resumes Torrid Title Chase

Hopped up more than Elvis in an earthquake, skipper Steve Mezzera's Jefferson Indians float down from Cloud Nine this Friday afternoon as they return to the North PAL pennant push down at Hillsdale.

The hypodermic — just the lift the Tribe needs to go all the way — came Saturday afternoon when the locals squeaked out a 3-2, 10-inning win over the Warriors for the SSF Invitational tourney title.

Credit Mike

The clincher, cemented by shortpatcher Mike Wedlake's sticking and first-class hurling, beefed Mezzera's estimate that the Indians have the goods to rule the roost. But Steve, confident and careful, knows his boys have to bear down and not get too cocky.

Perched one game behind '56 champ South City in loop standings, the Tribe looks like the best bet in the stretch drive. Mezzera's kids, especially his hurlers, were never better than last week when they disposed of potent Sacred Heart, Capuchino and the Warriors, in that order, en route to the trophy.

Rained out after leading the SF Irish 2-0 Tuesday, Jeff jogged back next day on Leveroni's five-hitter to trim the '56 tourney kings, 4-1. Two runs in the third frame put our lads on top to stay.

Main Blasts

Gary Ryan, Brisbane Bill Strassburger and Wedlake led the plate work with two safeties each. One of Ryan's slaps was a double. Also swatting two-basers were his outfield mates, Barry Haanen and Tom Cloutier. Ryan, one of Mezzera's fine juniors, has just about wrapped up starting garden duty.

Lefty Jim Wilson, thanks to Ino Patron's triple that sparked a three-run outburst in the fourth frame, gave the Tribe tourney win two Friday as he outlasted Capuchino, 5-4. A swift junior, Wilson checked the Mustangs on four hits, forking good control in all but the second and third innings, when the San Brunans dented the dish for a total of four runs.

Haanen, who like Wedlake, Leveroni and Strassburger, is All-North PAL caliber, rapped two of Jeff's nine hits.

There can't be many climaxes stacking up with Saturday's.

Wedlake's bloop single to left chasing across pesky Patron killed Warrior mound ace Jim Patrick's hill duel — and a dandy — with Jeff's Paul Tapia, another promising junior. Patron, who opened the frame with a walk, scampered home on the Texas leaguer — all the way from second.

Only a two-run first inning spoiled Tapia's best effort of the year. Strassburger's single drove across the scampering Patron for the Indians' first tally in the last half of the stanza. And the Brisbane standout, the North PAL's leading catcher, deadlocked the contest in the Tribe sixth. Bill got on via an error, then after two were out, he rolled home when the throw-in on Wedlake's single sailed over the third sacker's head.

Bobbles Hurt

South City, still Jeff's key target, outhit the Tribe, 8-6, but three miscues destroyed the Warriors.

Mezzera had nice words for all his boys. He entered the invite affair hopeful it would give Wilson and Tapia experience to back up Leveroni in the North PAL chase. Last week's come-through by all hands, confirmed the first-year pilot's notion that his club is more balanced than any in the circuit.

And for that matter, unless most observers are all wet, this Jeff squad could be one of the school's best. Anyway, tradition labels the Tribe strong. How much so remains to be seen.

Three Jeffers — Leveroni, Patron and Haanen — won berths on the All-Tourney squad. Seems the entire nine should have stepped up for honors.

Next Tuesday, the Tribe entertains Cap at Marchbanks. Game starts at 3:15 o'clock.

Santa Rosa Triple Play Nips Injuns

Sometimes it just doesn't pay to get out of bed in the morning. Jeff High's baseballers agreed Tuesday when a triple play by Santa Rosa High wiped out a sure Indian victory at Marchbanks.

The triple killing came in the bottom of the eighth as the Injuns jammed the bags with none out and were trailing 1-0. Next batter, reliable Mike Wedlake, popped to the first sacker, who doubled off the runner at first with a toss to the second baseman, and then the latter fired to third to nail the occupant there.

On the sacks when the axe fell were flinger Jim Wilson, Barry Haanen and Bill Strassburger.

Wilson ended up with a five-hitter. His rival, Jim Gabalean, scattered six safeties.

Tough luck, yes. But what a climax!

Watt's Tracksters Blaze In Preview To Showdown

Their thoughts tuned to next Tuesday's North PAL trials at Burlingame, Bob Watt's Jeff thinclads stayed in shape Tuesday down south although dropping a pair of dual meets to Palo Alto's Vikings.

The varsity Norsemen, about third best in the South PAL, bested the Indians, 65-48, and won the B's, 57-52.

Watt couldn't have felt better, however. Three of his trump cards for the PAL showdown blazed against the Vikings.

Sonny Martinez broke the school record with a 10 flat, non-wind-assisted 100 and took the 220 in 22.2. Soph Lenny Lamendola cracked off a 52 flat 440, his best, and soph Felix Valdez, though finishing second in a dead heat, skipped the 1320 in 3:22.3.

Of Valdez, Watt believes the sensation will not only break the school mark of 3:18, but also will threaten the PAL standard of 3:15 before his tenure runs out.

Top sparklers for Watt's B's Tuesday was Pollard, who grabbed first in the dashes and the broad jump. He rolled for an 8.2 in the 75 and a 16.2 in the 150. His leap was 18-7 in the jump.

Al Davila showed his heels in the 660 with a winning effort of 1:33. Gordy Tydingco, bothered by a pulled muscle, managed only 5 feet in the high jump. He's best in the league to date with a 5-4 effort.

Returnee John Margaroni, another showdown hopeful next week, got only fourth in the 75 and 150 dashes. Both were blanket finishes, so Watt wasn't too concerned.

This Saturday Watt takes his mainstays to the Martinez Relays. North PAL trials will be completed on May 3 at Blingum, with the PAL finals due at Stanford shortly thereafter.

With Martinez, Lamendola, Valdez, Jeff Chase and Jim Farley in top form, the Tribe varsity should go good in the league finale. Best thing about it is that next year will be even more fruitful.

EXHIBITION

Ribera's Thinclads Lose Pair To Norse; C's Win

Westmoor's eager tracksters went to the post again Tuesday, coming off the Palo Alto oval on the short end of two decisions against fast-rising Cubberley High.

Setbacks in the varsity and B brackets were expected, although the Rams fought to the wire in the latter. Ernie Ribera's C's, meanwhile, continued to be his best, taking a 44-31 verdict.

The host aggregation waltzed in the heavyweight clash, 79-36, and slipped through in the B's, 61-52.

Mentors Happy

Ribera and aide George Simon were pleased with the all-around improvement of their dust-raisers.

Varsity firsts were claimed by Leo Wyreck, 10-6 in the pole vault; soph miler Dave Dunbar, 5:10.5, and Rich Burnham, a 15.4 clocking for the 120 low hurdles.

Broad jumper Joe Rex set a school record in the event as he sailed 18-3 for the Westmoor B's.

Double winner for Ribera's middleweights was Rich Mollison, copping the shot with a 39-5 toss and the discus on a 105 heave.

Two more Ram marks were born in the C affair, fathered by Roger Johnson. The Rambler chucked the shot 42-8 and streaked for 19-2 in taking second in the broad jump.

Piazza Rolls

Ram Roger Piazza also busied himself with two fine efforts. He grabbed first in the 120 low sticks in 16.7, then tied teammate Jack Kyle and the Cub leaper in the high jump, each with a 4-8 performance.

Robert Nolli posted another first place in the C duel, cruising the 660 in 1:49.8.

The Rams look to the North PAL trials next Tuesday at Blingum, with finals May 3, same site.

In between they hope to meet San Mateo in a makeup.

League-wise, Ribera's varsity is winless in six starts, the B's are 2-4, and the C's stand 3-3.

Ram Golfers Defeat Jeff: Via Forfeit

Golfers from Jefferson and Westmoor traded shots in a friendly exhibition Tuesday at Lake Merced as the Indians kept in trim for coming North PAL engagements.

The Ram linksmen actually won the thing by forfeit, since Mike Orlich's team lacked one man to make the pairings. Jeff aces Wayne Guisti and Al Harris paced their mates with individual wins.

Westmoor's duffers are still in the embryo stage and won't play with the big boys until next year.

Orlich's contingent, standing 1-2 in the loop, stop off at the Peninsula course next Tuesday to collide with Keith Mattos-led Hillsdale.

After this lordly duel with the Knights, the Jeffers have two more North PAL tangles —a makeup with Capuchino and a regular go with South City, both at Lake Merced. Big target is the all-PAL meet in San Jose later on.

Orlich tabs Cap most likely to succeed in the showdown, but he isn't counting out his standouts.

26-Hit Barrage Hands Heickites Softball Crown

Broadmoor's B softballers mixed 26 hits and six enemy erors with Wayne Howel's one-hit mound work Saturday to sew up the Western Division flag in the West of Twin peaks League.

Everett Heick's kids had no mercy on Westlake 248, winning 21-0.

It was the local's seventh straight without a blemish, and now they're raring to meet the Pioneer Division winner for the al-loop crown.

Howell fanned 17 Westlakers, but nine walks spoiled his usual control. Mickey Garner handled the tools behind the plate, "doing well," Heick bubbled.

Jim Orlich, Jim Manning and Mike Fitzpatrick wielded the heavy willows. Each cracked out 4 for 6. Orlich ate the most spinach, accounting for a homer, two doubles and a one-baser.

Collecting three safeties apiece were Jack Crofton, Mike Land and dependable Howell.

Lone bingle off Howell was first sacker Hurt's single in the first inning. Westlake's hard-clubbing trio of Buekers, Horn and Jaspovice were stopped cold.

Colma Pistol Team In Oakland Matches

The newly-formed Colma police pistol team fired a fourth place among the 36 teams competing Sunday in the Oakland police pistol tournament.

Boasting a quartet of sharpshooters with county-wide reputations, the Colmans finished with a 1085 in the national course (50-yard) competition, behind S. F. police, 1095; California Highway Patrol, 1100, and Presidio pistol team, 1110.

Members of the aggregation are Ray Ottoboni, Albert Lagomarsino, C. V. Clayton and Bill Martin.

They will vie in the Oakland matches again May 5.

BALBOA JV'S HALT RAM HORSEHIDERS' WIN STREAK, 12-2

Westmoor's stunning win streak ended abruptly Wednesday when Balboa's JV's clobbered the Ram varsity, 13-2, at Ocean View.

Two four-run innings, the third and fourth, did the trick. Carby West started for Dutch Meyer's club, yielding midway to workhorse Dave Simmons.

Simmons was scheduled to hurl this Thursday against Half Moon Bay on the Coastside. And West will get the call again this Friday afternoon when the Rams face O'Connell High in San Francisco.

Meyer's team is 5-4 in their first year of competition.

That Time Again: Lake Merced Opens To Fishing

The trout-laden waters of beautiful Lake Merced — San Francisco's famous "backyard fishin' hole"—will be open to anglers of all ages with the start of the fishing season at 6 a.m. Saturday, it was announced today by Max G. Funke, general manager of the recreation and park department.

From Robert L. Jones, manager of Region 3, State Fish and Game department, comes the reassuring word that early plantings of rainbow trout fingerlings this year are expected to result in an excellent season at Lake Merced, and that the fish are completely undisturbed by the March 22 earthquake. The planting program calls for 800,000 new fingerlings each year in the north and south bodies of the lake.

JEFF'S OLIN CRAIG

Here's A Youngster Who Deserves Some Applause

By Roy Hurlbert

When balloting rolls around for the All-North PAL baseball squad, Steve Mazzera's Jefferson huskies figure to notch more than a few first-team slots. On this there is no doubt, judging by the Indians' scorching play to date.

But THE RECORD sports staff would like to suggest to the sage scribes in the Peninsula Sportswriters Association, a new category—this time for team statisticians.

Kid in charge of this behind-the-scenes department for Mezzera and company is deliberate Olin Craig, 14-year-old team manager, a walking encyclopedia with the charts.

Wee Olin, only 5-1 and a soaking-wet 91 pounds, chronicles the Indians to the last detail. Thus his stats on phone-ins to all the papers are super reliable.

It's hard work and takes time, but Craig thinks it's a lot of fun. Although he isn't equipped to play on the field, he scores plenty in the publicity category.

Just a freshman, Olin will grow to bigger proportions—physically and academically. He'll do okay in any given field.

Young Craig, 208 Olivos street, has demonstrated versatility. He got in a few licks last fall as a guard for Bob Watt's Jeff Frosh-Soph footballers. Wasn't a first stringer, but he gave his all.

May there be many more like him in this great empire of sports!

To Victors Go The Spoils

It was all over but the back slapping Tuesday night in the Daly City-Colma kegling league as the pin-busters capped a sensational season with their "Sweepstakes" and sprayed trophies all over the joint to the best in the loop.

Brentwood Bowl vibrated in the climax outing, with old gripes tossed out the window and everything palsy-walsy.

Pass The Bottle

Vince and Fred's beverage boys from Top O' the Hill ended a good campaign by taking the Sweepstakes' high team series with a 3061.

Towne House's Phil McEvers chalked up high man Sweepstakes' series on a 706 tally. Close on his neck were: Ed Newman, McGahey & Olson, 657; Aldo Canepa, Bank of America, 652; Vince Merlo, V&F, 641, and Roy Achziger (of the clan), McGahey & Olson, 634.

For regular season sparkle, the all-conquering Brisbane Marketmen wore out the carpet en route to the trophy table. The hillsiders acquired a handsome team trophy, and individual trophies for their potent Big Seven of Dutch Strassburger, Jay Fischera, Dale Girton, Bill Strassburger (Stanford-bound baseball find), Dick Wright, Wally King and Chuck Knapp.

Real King

King needed a van for his conquests, also getting a trophy for season's high single game—a 265.

That man again Merlo of V&F's pocketed trophy number two for loop high series with a 668. Decorated as runnerup behind Violent Vincente was Ray Alhona of Paul's Flowers. His second best was a .662.

McEvers of the Town Housers accepted another trophy for finishing next to King for high game. Phil had a 258 and was pretty fair throughout the chase.

Tribe's Ten Top Mermen Enter Trials

Ten Jefferson swimmers plunged into Capuchino pool this Thursday, shooting the works in the North PAL trials against splashers in all three weight divisions.

South PAL stalwarts did the same in trials at Willow Glen, with PAL semi-finals set this Friday at Capuchino. Titlists will be determined May 2 and 3 at the San Bruno school.

Representing Joe McGrath's varsity are Phil DeLucchi, 100-yard breaststroke and individual medley specialist, and diver Bill Magee.

De Lucchi's target will be Carlmont's triple-threat sensation, Bob Crawford, who holds records in three events. Big duel will be between Phil and the smooth Scot in the breaststroke. Crawford's best is 1:07.2, while De Lucchi's topper is 1:09 flat.

Jeff B's going for glory are Jim Ahern, Phil Phillips, Fred Howard, Rich Erickson and Bill N. King. Hopes center primarily in the individual medley and in the relay.

McGrath's challengers in the C's are Rich Curry, breastroke and backstroke, Len Mejia, 100 freestyle, and Paul Heneise, backstroke.

In dual meet action, Jeff's mermen finished: varsity, 1-5; B's, 2-4, and C's, 0-6.
